Drills They Help.

Making an adding machine required the drilling of ten holes in a steel plate a three-eighths of an inch thick, each hole to be accurate to a thousandth of an inch, yet no larger than a pin in diameter. Such a problem appalled the manufacturers of the adding machine, who had to resort to the use of a chemical liquid until the invention of the lathe-drill could turn a means of solving it.

The machine drilled stands but two inches high. The drill which was built carried ten spindles, each holding a drill of No. 4 Morse gauge, which is about the size of a pin of ordinary use. Each little error of steel that does the work is driven by a belt operating through a chain hoist and therefore works at the same speed as that of the lathe.

The actual drilling requires ten seconds.

Two Copies.

"We watched two copies in captivity the other day," said an interested man to his business partner, "they were the same age, of the same parentage or breeding. They have been together ever since."

"You are right," said the other man, "but they are not the same. One of them is a female, and the other is a male."

"You are right," said the first man, "but they are not the same. One of them is a female, and the other is a male."

THIS IS THE ONLY DAY THAT THE BRITISH EMPIRE HAS BEEN AT WAR WITH GERMANY.

CHARTERED ACCOUNTANTS

Mr. James Clancy, auditor of the Province of Ontario, in his report to the legislature, says there is abundance of proper control over the expenditures of the Hydro-Electric Commission, and that some of its acts are done in "deliberate disregard of the act" which gives it its authority. In consequence, new legislation has been introduced by which the chief accountant of the commission will practically be an appointee of the Provincial Government, holding office during the pleasure of the Legislature. The auditor-general and with the duty of counterbalancing all cheques issued by the commission. The chief accountant will also be required to make an annual report to the government. This report will show the actual condition and character of assets and liabilities, direct or indirect, on December 31st preceding the cash transactions for the year. The revenue, income and interest earned and disbursements in connection with operation, maintenance, administration, etc., of all the undertakings controlled by the commission, the estimated revenue and estimated expenditure, in detail, for the year ending December 31st. The particulars of liabilities contemplated, and the securities or evidence of solvency to be created, if any, and of such, together with the method of dealing with the same for the next succeeding year. The accounts of the commission will be audited at least once a year by the provincial auditor, or by an independent auditor appointed by the government.

This is but another instance of the demand for expert accounting and auditing work, says the Money Times. The trend of opinion in the House at Ottawa regarding the application of the new business taxes also indicates that services of expert chartered accountants will be in great demand. More than once the Finance Minister has hinted that the department would probably require such assistance. The chartered accountant will likely be in great demand, especially during the next decade. War has increased the demand for such services, and it is probable that they will continue to be in great demand for some time to come.

THE TRUE TRADE SPIRIT.

There is now about to take place in Paris an economic conference to consider, first, how Germany may be more rapidly weakened during the war, which is legitimate enough, and, secondly, how she may be kept down after the war. The conference is compatible only with a continuing desire for revenge. It will be seriously proposed that the enemies of Germany in this way, means, and especially Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia, shall bind themselves not to conclude economic arrangements with the foe when beaten; accept no commercial agreement among themselves as to terms; and that there shall be raised a logical trade barrier against "enemy" products, that is, German goods. The English, however, in this conference, approached their Government with a request that they be empowered to declare that never hereafter should British trade relations with Germany be as they were before the war. To this David Lloyd George, in a vigorous speech before the House of Commons, "Who made it," he said, "subordinate human liberty and honor, self-respect and honor, mankind to the necessities of trade policy. When we consider the trade the first thing to be done is to obliterate any idea of revenge."

That is a sane and wise idea. In the present turmoil of feeling it deserves almost to be called vision. That a deliberate policy of trade revenge should serve the war is unthinkable. The world is a place where a great many people have got to live together, exchanging wealth in all its forms, goods no less than knowledge, else civilization is wrecked upon its own muscularities. It is not possible in the first place, and if it were, the world could not afford to do it.

Those who preach the doctrine of economic revenge forget that the officially avowed purpose of the war in its present aspects, is to make an end of Prussian militarism, to remove the menace of further war. That is a laudable object.

Toronto News: The fact that Mr. Carr and Mr. Kyle are unscrupulous men, bringing reckless accusations against political opponents, relieves neither Colonel Allen nor Sir Sam Hughes of the responsibility of the new multitudes charges. In reading two of his own supporters in the House of Commons out of the party, and in reading every day for the investigations of alleged corruption, Sir Robert Borden deserves no new president in Canada. He is a man who has failed to raise Parliamentary conditions above the state in which the Laurier Government left them. The Government's practice of using the majority in the House to prevent inquiry and ignore charges of corruption was revealed by the present Administration. Having set up the new standard, the Prime Minister must live up to it, even out of consideration for one of his own colleagues.

Kingston Standard: It is not to be wondered at that Americans who serve this "ghastly pretence" of friendliness with Germany should be wondering. What the question will lead to no one can say, but all events there is not the slightest doubt that if President Wilson decides to end it, he will be supported by the American people. And then what will be the effect of such a move? "All other nations have self-respect?"

Mail and Empire: The Pittsburgh Leader, who writes not only for the husband of Miss Lillian Russell, says the foreign situation would clear up, and Germany, as far as the United States is concerned, would be a mere shadow. The Americans would stay off the ships of belligerent nations. A great deal of the world is to be thankful to Col. Roosevelt, the commander expressed in that statement are exactly those of Col. Bryan.

As a Pick-me-up After Grip To Restore Health, Vigor, Energy, There is Nothing to Compare to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

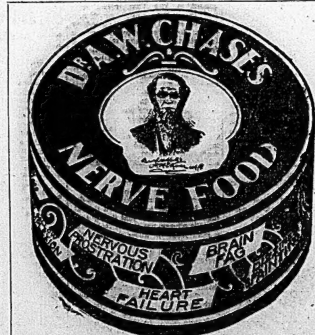

The grip epidemic has assumed huge proportions until there is scarcely a home but shelters one more victims of this enervating disease. Urged on by sudden changes of temperature, this dreaded scourge sweeps over the country like a forest fire before the western winds.

In offices, stores and factories the forces are greatly reduced because so many are away with grip, while many who stick to their posts do so with the greatest discomfort, because of the pains and aches and the great weakness associated with this disease.

It only takes a few hours of this debilitating ailment to bring even the strongest to their beds and the process of recovery is often most tedious.

Just at this point Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does wonders to hasten the return of health, strength and vitality. By forming new, rich blood it builds up the system as nothing else can. Here is a case to illustrate this point:

Miss Amy C. Davis, 301 Perth Ave., Toronto, Ont., writes: "After a severe attack of quinsy and grip, my nervous system seemed to be completely run down. I had taken a good tonic, prescribed by my doctor, but still felt very nervous; would start up at the least sound, and was very irritable. A friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and, after taking two boxes, I felt so much improved that I continued to take four more, which completely restored my health. I cannot say too much for this great Nerve Food, and have recommended it to all my friends."

HOW TO AVOID GRIP

Rich, red blood is the greatest of germicides, and good vitality the strongest defense against disease. Keep the bodily vigor at high-water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and you need have no fear of grip and other contagious diseases. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmansson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

It is the older people who suffer most from grip. Finding them in a more or less weakened condition, grip breaks down their power of resistance and prepares the way for pneumonia, kidney troubles, or heart failure.

After every epidemic of grip the grim reaper makes a regular harvest, through the medium of these ailments. There is only one way to avoid such results, and that is by the regular use of such restorative treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This great food cure has proven a wonderful blessing to people in advanced years and all whose systems have become run down.

You need not linger in weakness if you will put this treatment to the test. By supplying the ingredients required by nature, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food hastens the process of upbuilding and you can depend on the results proving of lasting benefit.

Miss E. J. Buswell, Centralia, Ont., writes: "Last Winter my mother contracted a mild cold. She was bothered with shortness of breath, wheezing, fevered and too sore to cough. Our doctor prescribed treatment which brought relief from these symptoms, but when she got up she was tired, always tired and weak. I got her three boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and she soon improved. Her eyes became clear and bright, the ashen hue left the face and she began once more to take up the reins and look after the household duties."

The Eternal Lover

by Edgar Rice Burroughs

Copyright, 1914, by W. H. Chapman

Barry was slipped from the cave and down the descent, inward, toward the very heart of the cave, and then, as he lay upon the broad plain, but even as he lay, he was not alone. He was surrounded by the shadows of the cave, and he was not alone. He was surrounded by the shadows of the cave, and he was not alone.

Warty's head advanced, every sense alert, and he saw that the danger might lie in this strange new world. But he had no voice to express his fear.

With his sense hardly he bowed it before the crowd, and then he was in the center of the crowd, and he was not alone. He was surrounded by the shadows of the cave, and he was not alone.

First he split it down the center for four or five inches, and then he cut across it in the middle, and then he cut across it in the middle, and then he cut across it in the middle, and then he cut across it in the middle.

For several minutes he heaved himself, shaping the point of the new shaft, and then he was in the center of the crowd, and he was not alone. He was surrounded by the shadows of the cave, and he was not alone.

He saw the sun, but to him it was a different sun from the great, warm sun that had shone through the thick, humid atmosphere of the cave.

From Oate's only the day before, he had seen the sun, but to him it was a different sun from the great, warm sun that had shone through the thick, humid atmosphere of the cave.

KINGSTON
It is hardly probable that there will be many changes in the composition of the battalions and regiments in the 12th district which was last year. The only change is a new addition to the 12th, because of the larger camp, but the 12th of the 12th district will be no doubt be members of the camp staff and all the work of the district done in the 12th, which was in the 12th last summer.

Mr. Lewis, physical director of Queen's University, left for Montreal yesterday to take a course in school of physical drill and bayonet training. Mr. Lewis has been praised the rank of lieutenant, and will on his return have charge of the physical drill and bayonet training work of the 12th military district.

The Machine Gun School started a new Monday morning at the Armory for non-commissioned officers of the 12th of the 12th Military District. LEWIS, A. D., G.S.O., returned to the city from Ottawa and other police on Saturday.

SIR SAM
NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 14.—Sir:

Hughes, Canadian Minister of Militia and Defence, arrived here today on the American liner St. Paul, on his way to Canada to answer charges of alleged favoritism in the expenditure of money for the purpose of war munitions for the Canadian Government.

"I regret having to leave England at the present time," he said. "But I am delighted with the opportunity to return and place each and every fact regarding the contracts for munitions

"I have no comment to make on the conduct of those not taking the conduct of those who, taking advantage of my absence, and from feeling of nervousness almost borde ing on panic, in the minds of the general public on all questions since the war began, attempted to divert the side issues an energy at a time which should be devoted to the cause of Canadian soldiers at the front and the Empire in general. Such persons may be within their privileges. During my two weeks' visit in England the conduct and bearing of the Canthe trenches, is regarded as most exemplary, and worthy of their com-

Cobalt Stocks Begin to Move

TORONTO, April 13.—The rise in bar silver continues, the white metal advancing another quarter of a cent yesterday to 62c. an ounce, thus getting within $\frac{1}{8}$ c of the high of 1913 and within 1½c of the top level of 191. This is a rise of 2¼c. so far, this month. It was quoted at 30d per ounce in London. A despatch from that centre said that all mints are buying the metal, that stocks of silver are small there, and that arrivals of the metal from America are reported to be sold before they get there. This latter does not agree with what is claimed regarding some of the silver shipped by various South American countries.

NEGRO TOWN A SUCCESS

Edna
Bosdon City is Without a White Ro

DIMENSIONAL, Apr. 14.—After several years' struggle against heavy odds, including local usurpation, the settlement and the incorporation of a negro town in Bosdon City, the only municipality in the United States with one exception which is "wholly negroized and conducted by negroes" has won its battle by demonstrating to a pronounced majority of the town that it is a success.

When the plan to found an exclusively negro town in the South was conceived, scarcely any white people in the American district, where it is located, doubted it would work out. But the negroes were not discouraged, and went ahead. Now Bosdon City is firmly established as a progressive town and governs itself successfully both in a financial way and in law enforcement and discipline.

Rack, in the South, was founded by a band of negroes who obtained a charter and incorporated. The population was a ratio of 100 per cent. No man without employment is allowed to stay in the town. Either a job is found for him or he is required to move away.

The town has four churches, with a combined membership of 1,000. A public school with 250 pupils, a good electric lines, police and sanitary department, a well built jail and a Government building were two years ago the only town in the South with a ratio of 100 per cent. The town has a ratio of 100 per cent. The town has a ratio of 100 per cent. The town has a ratio of 100 per cent.

Hosdon City's governing board consists of seven Councilmen, a Mayor and four other municipal officials are in the City of Police. Every resident of the town is a negro.

THE RELIEF OF BELGIUM
A striking indictment of Germany's continued inhumanity to Belgium and a powerful plea on behalf of the millions who, although destitute, remain loyal in that stricken country, are contained in the following statement. It is signed by the Lord Bishop of London, the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Archbishop of York, the Archbishop of the Church of Scotland, the President of the Free Church of Scotland, the Chief Rabbi, the Duke of Norfolk, Lord Lansdowne, Lord Bessborough, Mr. Arthur Balfour, Mr. John Balfour, Mr. Stanley Bone (Hon. Member), Mr. W. M. A. G. (Hon. Member), To the Editor—

MR. Balfour, we wish to express the National Committee for Relief in Belgium and appealed to our fellow subjects throughout the British Empire on behalf of a million and a half Belgians, exposed and threatened with starvation in their own stricken country. The number of destitute Belgians in Belgium exceeds three millions. Many are women and children.

Receipts from the 2,500 Belgian Committee, that every ton of food imported into Belgium has been faithfully distributed by Belgium to Belgium, under the supervision of this Commission and its self-acting Belgian staff.

THE VIRTUE OF THE NATURAL LEAF
In the contention that the methods of distributing relief to Belgium are not practicable, it is impossible for any appreciable quantity of the food to reach the German lands, and with the aid to justify this contention, we do not believe any one seriously in appeal to the British nation for further contributions. Our original appeal to date, has brought in over £1,200,000. NEW YORK, April 18.—An epithet, who was not reckoned as one of the country's big income tax payers, has been "loaned up" to the institution, but on being told that the bank was pretty well loaded up, went on to J. P. Morgan & Co., where he insisted upon seeing H. P. Davison, a partner.

He finally returned to the Sub-Treasury to tell them that he had decided to wait a day to give the Washington authorities time to send money here, and after rewarding a guard with a cigar departed for the

Girl A Nervous Wreck

At Eleven Years of Age
Was Tired Out, Pale and Sallow—Would Tremble Till the Bed Would Shake—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Cured Her

In the schools of today there is found an alarming percentage of weak, nervous children who are unable to endure the strain of developing into healthy, useful and contented adults.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the only remedy that has been found to help them out over a trying period of their lives.

There would be fewer weeping faces, less nervousness, less irritability in the school and home, more health and more pleasure in the school tasks.

This letter and several others which you may see are evidence of the results which have been obtained by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

My little sister at eleven years of age has been nervous and irritable for some time. She is now healthy and happy, and is able to do all her school work.

Personal Assessment	$1,376.00
Total	$1,022,876.00

Real property table for 1916.

This is the first time we have had in the last six years I have had the honor of serving in this capacity.

As per report of your Council pro-ceedings, I see you have appointed a committee of assessment. I am glad to meet your committee any afternoon or evening next week, and I am holding office hours on Wednesdays, from 10 to 12 o'clock, for the purpose of receiving suggestions for the improvement of this department and the welfare of the city as a whole.

Prohibition at Three Rivers

A good example of how local police works at Three Rivers was furnished by the arrest of a party who had a good sized party of inviolable liquor at his home. The party was brought in from Quebec, most of them nervous cases. The men were in charge of an officer, and were marched in good shape to the train. Not a man was drunk, and having a change to get drunk, and there were no pockets full of the party. All well and good. Three Rivers, about half way to Montreal, was reached. Shortly after the train started the men were to be kept soberly, then they became really pale and some of them began to shiver. They were way to the station, and it was with difficulty they could be kept sober. They were, although some of them were not to sleep.

The result of this experience in temperance Three Rivers was that this was the first time in the history of the city that a party of inviolable liquor was brought to the city, and the men were kept sober. They were, although some of them were not to sleep.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most shampoos and prepared shampoos contain much alkali. This alkali is very harmful. Junk pills substituted for soap, and the hair is made so dry and brittle, it is much better to use a good shampoo.

While you can use for shampooing, a little castor oil rubbed into the hair. Simply rub your hair with your fingers, and the oil will penetrate the hair and scalp thoroughly. The oil is very soft and easily absorbed. A very good portion of dirt, dirt, dandruff, and itching scalp, will be removed quickly and evenly, and it leaves the hair soft, shiny, healthy, and easy to manage.

It cannot be substituted with anything else, and it is very cheap, and a few ounces will supply all everyone in the family for months.

Dr. Van Allen, who, according to the New York Herald, is a close personal friend of Allison, never once left his patient's side, although Allison did not impress the casual observer as being in a critical condition.

Lawyer Henderson declined to let the reporters get near his celebrated client. "Col. Allison is a very sick man," he remonstrated, "and is very tired from his journey. Besides, I am anxious to discuss matters in connection with the coming investigation with him, and I would very much prefer that he say nothing for public consumption."

THIS IS THE EIGHTH DAY THE BRITISH EMPIRE HAS BEEN AT WAR WITH GERMANY.

WHAT FORM WILL IT TAKE?

If present indications are to be accepted, it is apparent that the Allied nations will decide to enter upon a new policy, which does not provide for the absolute eradication of Prussianism. It is increasingly evident that the time is not very distant when they will have the power to compel such a peace. Turkey is rapidly going to cease. Bulgaria is contending. Austria is wavering. In Germany, Prussianism is succeeding the confidence with which the war was begun. The German authorities, who themselves constitute the very Prussianism which must be destroyed, doubtless already realize their impending doom, but they will hold out to the last moment in the hope that some unexpected event will occur which will allow them to escape their fate.

The mass of the people of Germany do not yet know that they are beaten, although this is beginning to fill their minds with dire forebodings. They do not know the truth either in regard to military events or as to the barbarians come. They are German submarines and Zeppelins.

"There is little question but that the necessary destruction of Prussianism is what primarily stands in the way of peace," says an authority on military tactics. "Matters of boundaries, of restoration, of indemnity, if any, might be arranged. If it advantage her to do so, Germany will throw over Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria as lightly as she compassed their services. But Prussianism itself will never consent to a destruction of Prussianism; that must come from outside of Prussianism."

There can be no doubt but that the terms of peace with a Republic of Germany erected by revolution upon the wreckage of Prussianism would be far easier than the terms which would be made with the existing German empire. The destruction of Prussianism, however, would be both easier and less costly than from without; but either from within or without destroyed it must be.

SETTING IRELAND FREE.

That the United States Government had knowledge of the plot to land munitions on the Irish coast through the Von Igel papers and started the British Government, which warning resulted in the capture of Sir Roger Casement and the arrest of the British agents.

German expedition, is the charge made by John Devoy, editor of the Gaelic American, says the New York Times. In a characteristic editorial Devoy declares that "The worst blow the insurgents received was the sinking of the German auxiliary cruiser with its load of arms and ammunition on board." The silence with which the first blow was delivered proved that the secret was well kept. There was no informer or British spy who was able to learn the plans of the insurgents, but that deficiency was supplied by the German Government, which told the Irish hand-picked by putting Woodrow Wilson in power and thus enabling him to do this time service to his mother country, which is dearer to him than the one in which he was born.

Rumors are current that the Von Igel papers seized in the Wall Street office contained much material on the Irish situation. These reports, which, in spite of denial from officials connected with the Department of Justice, it is recalled, however, that the news of the German expedition, which was found among the documents now demanded by the German Embassy, including letters referred to "what a fine thing it would be for the world if Germany went over and made the Irish free."

In view of the fact that two Ottawa hotels have gone into the receiver's hands within the past few days, the temperance people, who have been actively leading the abolition of the bar movement, may have a big problem forced upon them sooner than they expected. They are not, however, to be responsible for providing accommodation for the travelling public after the bars are closed, but the signs and the business, this responsibility is settling upon them sooner than looked for. If the banish the bar movement is to be successful, the success and the accepting thing for this province, says the Ottawa Free Press, good hotel accommodation is the first and most important thing to secure.

The Dublin riots are to be deplored as most unfortunate, but it is just as well that the disloyal forces have shown their hand. To doing so, they have shown the authorities how to suppress the trouble. It was expected that the smouldering fire in Ireland, if it was to be kindled, would be kindled in the north. It has, but what is not recognized as an elaborate and intricate conspiracy, aided by Germany, was aided in the last when Sir Roger Casement's venture came to grief, and latest advances in the war are the result of the situation is satisfactory. From the standpoint of the enemy, the expected "Irish rebellion" is already a fact, and the Irish people have played another card in the game.

The fight of an armed merchantman without having its powerful character to protect itself either by flight or resistance is invited upon by the United States Government. On the other hand, the attacking vessel must display its colours before exercising legitimate rights. It may be that the situation is a realising merchant ship, the attack must cause as soon as the resistance stops. Only when it is impossible to take the required steps, may merchantmen be taken if they are sunk, and in such case the persons on board must be put in place of safety.

Montreal Herald-Tribune: Sir Charles Fitzgerald's speech in Montreal on the Irish attitude towards a good time for every loyal British subject. It is inspiring to know that the noble and brave expressed represents the feeling of the vast majority of the Irish people. The stand which the Irish people are taking in the present troubled situation shows what they think of the real nationality which they have lost in the hands of the good name of Ireland at a time when not only the Empire but civilization itself is at stake.

Germany was most indulgent at Guelph. The German Government, which told the Irish hand-picked by putting Woodrow Wilson in power and thus enabling him to do this time service to his mother country, which is dearer to him than the one in which he was born.

It took a "Gaelic" Irishman to provide offhand the phrase that has been used in the history of the world of a century or more, "Barbarism and Civilization," for many of the Irish people, who are now in the hands of the British, are now in the hands of the British.
